Divided State media outlets emphasize reconstruction projects, international partnerships, and security operations against former regime officials, projecting an image of institutional recovery and normalized relations. Public discourse on social media is fragmented and contentious, with accusations about weapons depots, sectarian tensions, and deep disagreements over which regions suffered most during the conflict. Some commenters engage in heated exchanges about Palestinian presence and historical claims, while others express weariness with political divisions.

3. Power Generation Expansion and Infrastructure Rehabilitation Economy and services · Outlets: strongly positive · 25% of the discussion
   State media reports that Syria has increased electricity generation to 3,500 MW from 915 MW and plans new gas-fired power plants and grid upgrades to meet demand expected to double by 2030. Water service has been restored to 2.3 million people with five wastewater treatment plants planned.
4. Institutional Cooperation and Governance Reforms Governance and the new state · People: mostly neutral · Outlets: leaning positive · 16% of the discussion
   Syrian authorities announce institutional cooperation efforts with Qatar on oversight and transparency, discuss mechanisms for institutional integration in Aleppo, and form the Syrian-Uzbek Business Council. State media emphasizes these as governance strengthening initiatives.
5. International Cooperation and Economic Integration Initiatives Economy and services · Outlets: strongly positive · 16% of the discussion
   State media reports multiple international engagements: Syria-Ukraine humanitarian demining agreement, Syrian-American Business Council reconstitution, CargoSyr 2026 transport and logistics exhibition, Syria-Algeria academic cooperation expansion, and Egypt-CIA discussions on regional maritime security. State commentary suggests Syria's role is shifting from investment-dependent to integration in trade and supply networks.
6. Domestic Emergency Management and Environmental Initiatives Society and daily life · Outlets: leaning positive · 16% of the discussion
   State media reports on the Ministry of Emergency and Disaster Management's proactive flood prevention plan in Hasakah province, focusing on protection along the Khabour River and valley watercourses. Additionally, coverage highlights an eco-friendly products market in Aleppo with over 60 exhibitors promoting recycling and sustainable products, and routine civil defense reports on traffic accidents and fires across Syria.
7. Aleppo Development and Regional Centrality Projects Economy and services · Outlets: strongly positive · 13% of the discussion
   President al-Sharaa discusses proposed development projects in Aleppo including real estate, tourism, industrial facilities, and an exhibition city, meeting with senior officials including the presidency secretary-general, relevant ministers, the Aleppo governor, and investment authority chief. State media frames this as prioritizing Aleppo's development.
8. Arrest of Former Republican Guard Commander Ahmad Ismail Transitional justice · People: leaning positive · Outlets: leaning positive · 13% of the discussion
   Syrian Internal Security Forces arrested former Maj. Gen. Ahmad Mohammad Ismail, a senior Republican Guard commander under the deposed regime, on charges including direct participation in leading military attacks on Aleppo, Daraa, and Eastern Ghouta. State media presents this as a security operation against former regime officials. Public posts confirm the arrest and detail the alleged charges.
9. Cultural, Historical, and Literary Discussions Society and daily life · People: mostly neutral · Outlets: mostly neutral · 13% of the discussion
   Public posts discuss disparate cultural topics: a dispute in Egypt over a Latakia-origin song and plagiarism accusations, Syrian administrative history under Mamluk and Ottoman periods, biographical information about Omar Sharif's Syrian-Lebanese Christian origins and religious conversion, theological and methodological discussions on Damascus Salafism, and classical music attribution disputes.
10. Sectarian Divisions and Political Governance Disputes Society and daily life · People: strongly negative · Outlets: strongly negative · 13% of the discussion
    Public posts express deep sectarian grievances and disputes about governance, with commenters accusing certain groups of sectarian favoritism, past collaboration, or exclusionary politics. Posts reference Idleb's role in the revolution, disputes over which regions suffered most, and accusations against certain communities regarding their past allegiances.
11. Arrest and Prosecution of Former Military and Intelligence Officials Transitional justice · Outlets: leaning positive · 12% of the discussion

Suleiman Ahmad Hassan), and a former Republican Guard brigadier involved in operations in Aleppo and Ghouta.
12. Dispute Over Song Copyright and Artistic Attribution Society and daily life · People: strongly negative · Outlets: leaning negative · 10% of the discussion
    Egyptian copyright organizations issue statements claiming theft of cultural heritage regarding song 'Ala Rawdh al-Habib' performed by artist Asala Nasri on a Syrian album. Public posts respond with counter-allegations that the Egyptian side is falsely claiming ownership of folkloric material, characterizing the dispute as institutional posturing and dismissing it as a trivial matter.
13. Dispute Over Musical Heritage and Song Attribution Society and daily life · People: leaning negative · Outlets: leaning negative · 10% of the discussion
    Public discussion revolves around claims and counterclaims regarding attribution of songs and musical works between Syrian and Egyptian artists, including discussions of Sayed Darwish's legacy and specific artists' origins (Farid Al-Atrash, Asmahan, Umm Kulthum, Omar Sharif's family background). The dispute centers on whether Syrian folklore elements constitute exclusive Syrian heritage or shared Levantine tradition.
14. Israeli Military Operations and Border Shelling Israel and the south · Outlets: strongly negative · 9% of the discussion
    State media reports Israeli occupation forces targeting southern Quneitra countryside near al-Rafeed town with artillery fire. Also reports a Palestinian woman and two children wounded by Israeli forces in Gaza.
15. Currency Devaluation and Economic Pressures Economy and services · Outlets: strongly negative · 6% of the discussion
    Independent outlets report widening gap between Syria's official and parallel exchange rates, attributed to persistent trade deficit, costly energy imports, and high foreign currency demand. This indicates ongoing economic pressure on the Syrian pound.
16. Security Operations Against Crime and Corruption Security and violence · People: leaning positive · Outlets: leaning positive · 6% of the discussion
    State media reports on two security operations: the Drug Enforcement Department in Homs neutralizing a major drug trafficking network chief, and Internal Security Forces arresting five individuals for embezzling large sums of public money worth tens of millions of Syrian pounds. These are presented as law enforcement successes.
17. Geopolitical Threats to Syrian Territorial Integrity International relations · People: strongly negative · Outlets: mostly neutral · 6% of the discussion
    Public posts raise alarms about alleged Turkish territorial ambitions toward Latakia based on a purported image from Turkish defense ministry meeting, and Israeli plans for a 'Dawud Corridor' project connecting southern Syria eastward through Kurdish areas. These are framed as threats to Syrian sovereignty and linked to potential mass displacement from Daraa.
18. Bilateral Economic and Trade Cooperation Economy and services · Outlets: leaning positive · 6% of the discussion
    State media reports on Syrian-Uzbek Business Forum in Tashkent exploring trade and investment opportunities, formation of Syrian-Uzbek Business Council, Syria-Belgium bilateral relations discussions, and Egyptian-Syrian governmental talks on cooperation mechanisms. These present Syria's economic engagement with multiple regional and international partners.
19. Revolutionary Commemoration and Nostalgia Versus Fatigue Society and daily life · People: leaning negative · Outlets: mostly neutral · 6% of the discussion
    One post appeals to people to remember the revolution through evocation of martyrs, mothers mourning fallen sons, and specific conflict sites (Douma, Baba Amro) alongside a sworn oath to the revolutionary cause. Another post expresses fatigue with revolutionary narratives, accusing certain groups (implied as Islamists) of hiding in Turkish-controlled areas while the Syrian people endured the conflict.
20. School Dropout Reintegration and Educational Expansion Society and daily life · Outlets: strongly positive · 6% of the discussion
    State media reports that Syria is undertaking efforts to reintegrate an estimated 2 million school dropouts through assessment programs, learning loss measures, and expanded access to education.
